Travel and Cross-cultural Encounters in Global Literature and Cinema

If you're staying home this summer, this WID summer online course is a great journey around the world through modern global literature and cinema about travel and cross-cultural encounters. Our itinerary includes travel writing, fiction, film, and essays - that illuminate the wonderful, startling and troubling aspects of travel from England, India, Iran, France, Nigeria, Tibet, Antigua, Trinidad, the United States and Canada. Themes to be discussed include: race, gender, postcolonialism, friendship, work, globalization, and what happens to identity and cultural community in transit. This course is also being offered in summer session II (06/28/21 - 08/07/21). Register with CRN 83110 for WGSS 2710 and CRN 83111 for ENGL 2710W.
